Q: Get next(s) x- and y-coordinates for rotated line after Matlab plot I've got a 3d plot of a rotated line in Matlab. My problem is: I need to get the x- and y-coordinates of the next point on the line after the rotated line. Any ideas how to do this? A: You should first find the transformation matrix you apply to the line in order to rotate it: % first param is the original line, and the second parameter is % the rotation angle % to find the rotation matrix, you can use % x_rot
