I'd still have a problem with you taking their business, but i could see if it was with your kids. I don't think it's right to tell them how to run their business though. Some kids don't like balloons, or they have allergies or they feel like they can't keep it in good enough quality so you don't want to see the kiddos have to deal with a crying kid for the rest of their day. BUT i would be mad if you keep taking their business. :) It depends on the kid. I have 3. Two absolutely love balloons and will tell you to go get more for them at anytime. One is super fussy so I always make sure she gets some because she gives so much grief. I'm not try to make the kids pay extra.
